Family Ties and Knots: Children of Divorce, is designed to promote access between non-custodial parents and their children, and will be used by the Court to help parents recognize the effects of harmful alienating behaviors. (16 minutes)

Family Ties and Knots: Parents on the See-saw, features parents who struggle to work constructively with the other parent in order to support the positive contact the child has with the other, and to provide more stability and consistency for the child between the homes. It also contains information from a psychologist about various time-sharing plans that are appropriate for different age groups, as well as helpful versus hurtful scenarios. (25 minutes)

Family Ties and Knots: Children of Divorce - A View for the Bench, includes the first 16 minute video, and will be used specifically to inform Family Court judges about mild, moderate and severe forms of parental alienation. This education will assist judges in identifying chronic violators of visitation orders and referring these parties to a class that will focus strictly on the impact of high parental conflict on the children. (42 minutes) Only available to Courts and Judicial Officers.
